KATE QUINN

I am a fulltime artist and mother of three teenagers from Brisbane, where I create from a tiny, abundant home studio. I am a still life oil painter, with a particular focus on capturing the beauty of flowers, ceramics, textiles, and everyday household items. I dabble in landscapes and portraiture from time to time, but still life is my first love and primary focus. My art is inspired by my surroundings in nature, my garden and home, and the everyday scenes I encounter.

Before pursuing my passion for painting, I worked as a domestic violence specialist social worker. After dabbling as a hobby artist for many years, I decided to turn my attention to painting more seriously in 2020, and in 2022 left social work to paint full time. In addition to creating my own originals, prints, clothing and homewares, I also teach art classes from my studio, and co-run an art teaching business, Bloom Art Experiences with fellow KEAP Collective artist, Emily Day. Through this business, we bring floral still life painting workshops to beautiful locations across Australia, giving others the opportunity to learn and create art in inspiring settings.

My art career breakthrough moment came when I won the 'Jumbled Art Superstar' competition a few years ago, and this has led to many other creative opportunities. I exhibit my art in regional and city galleries and stores, at Affordable Art Fairs in Brisbane, Sydney and Melbourne, and directly to customers through my website and Instagram.

I am very much looking forward to being part of the KEAP Collective's exhibition at the Affordable Art Fair in Brisbane. I hope to see you there!

EMILY DAY

Hi there!

I am a painter based in Brisbane, where I live with my husband, two daughters and our 14 year old rescue dog. I have been painting full time since 2019, having made a career change from architecture, after a 6 month road trip around Australia. My studio has beautiful views out to the hills, and I love the little oasis that the space offers for me (and my kids!) to create in.

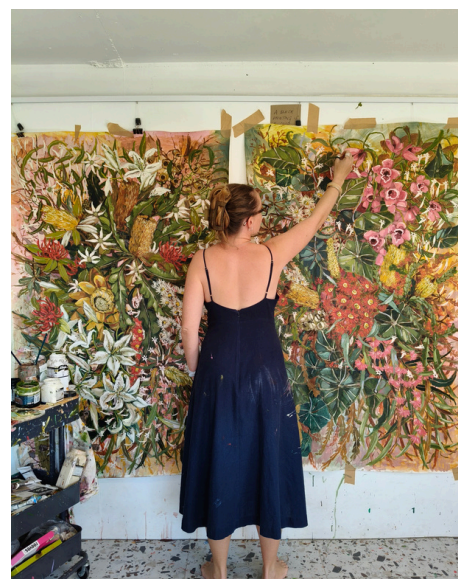

In my practice, I use acrylics to paint tangled florals, still life arrangements and interior scenes. My passion lies in creating art that is quietly grounded in the present; familiar pieces that live with you through every season of life. The best part of my job is connecting with the people who resonate with my work.

My paintings are constructed in layers of loose brush work, while gradually building up areas of detail until I think the piece is complete. I frequently draw back on my design skills by stitching together photos, sketches and memories to create imagined compositions.

I also co-run a business called Bloom Art Experiences with Kate! We host bespoke, in-person workshops around Australia that share in the joy of painting and offer online painting courses as well.

I am so thrilled to be joining Kate, Adele and Pia in KEAP Collective and I can't wait to say hello at the Affordable Art Fair in Brisbane!

ADELE BEVACQUA

Hello!

I'm Adele, an Australian artist based in Brisbane specialising in heavily textured abstract expressionist paintings, with a passion for colour and movement.

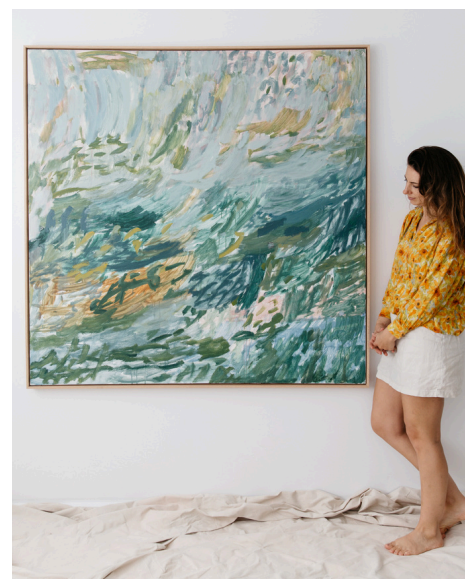

Living in vibrant India for six months as part of my fashion degree saw me fall in love with colour and the way it reflected joy across circumstances, something I continue to explore today in all my pieces. Returning home, I dove back into painting and fell in love with the constant exploration this art form takes both the artist and their audience on. I love interpreting light, movement and emotion through layers of expressive strokes and marks, and am obsessed with this creative process.

But most importantly, I love creating beautiful paintings that make people feel at home. And make a house feel like a home. That emotional connection when you look at something and feel at peace, that's what I aim for. I try not to take life or art too seriously, my paintings are fun to create and I hope the viewer feels this too.

Outside the studio, I'm with my crew: my incredible husband Ace and our three wild little ones who keep life very full (and fun). Ace and I also run House of Aya together - our fashion label where we turn my artwork into vibrant pyjamas, all made ethically in India.

I can't wait to meet you all at the Affordable Art Fair in Brisbane!

PIA KUYKHOVEN

I'm a contemporary artist based in the southern suburbs of Adelaide, working full-time from my backyard studio surrounded by a flourishing garden. I was born and raised in Adelaide, and after time living abroad, I returned home to pursue a creative life that weaves together my love of nature, art, and memory.

Originally trained as a landscape designer, my deep connection to gardens began in childhood. One of my earliest influences was my great aunt's cottage garden—an enchanting place full of colour, scent, and story. From taking cuttings as a kid to transforming the broken concrete of my childhood wharf into a garden, I've always used plants to make meaning and beauty from my surroundings. Today, I work fluidly between acrylic painting and hand built ceramics, moving between mediums as a natural part of my process.

My vibrant floral still life and nostalgic ceramics are rooted in memory and place. Painting and ceramics constantly inform each other—they're in ongoing conversation. Familiar domestic objects—like teacups, platters, and vases—frequently appear in my work, not just as props, but as vessels of story and connection. My work is tactile and intentionally marked — brushstrokes, impressions, and textures reveal the history of each piece.

Bold, bright, and rhythmic, I build my work through layers of intuitive mark making, shaped by a process of adding and pruning—much like gardening. I create with the hope that my pieces offer comfort, beauty, and quiet drama. I like to think of them not just as artworks, but as future heirlooms—objects that carry memories. I can't wait to join KEAP at the Affordable Art Fair in Brisbane!
